

WOMAN'S COLLEGE AWARDS HONORS

Closing Ceremonies of the Most Successful Year in Its History.

MANY DEGREE GRADUATES

Thirty-Seven young Ladies Complete Their Courses—Honorary Degrees Awarded.

The Woman's College, of Richmond, last night closed by most successful session in its history—successful in point of the number of students enrolled, in the number of degree graduates and the standard of scholarship and discipline attained. The Academy of Music was the scene of the closing exercises. The stage was reserved for the young ladies of the college and speakers of the evening. All the rest of the auditorium, even to the topmost gallery was occupied by the friends and relatives of the graduates of the college and by the undergraduates, pupils and the friends of the institution. Music, oratory and a magnificent floral display contributed to the evening's programme.

The curtain rose upon an effective grouping of the degree graduates, the young ladies of the college, and the undergraduates, all of whom were arranged in a large room extending from side to side of the stage, while in the centre were President Nelson, Dr. F. A. Woods and the officers of the college and speakers of the evening, and Mr. Christopher B. Garnett, who delivered the diploma to the graduates in schools and to the degree graduates. In the rear of the stage, the young ladies of the college, the graduates of the college, and the undergraduates, all of whom were arranged in a large room extending from side to side of the stage, while in the centre were President Nelson, Dr. F. A. Woods and the officers of the college and speakers of the evening, and Mr. Christopher B. Garnett, who delivered the diploma to the graduates in schools and to the degree graduates.

Orator Presented.

After a musical selection by the orchestra, Dr. Nelson, president of the college, made a brief introductory address, congratulating the students upon their work during the year and welcoming the audience. He then introduced the Rev. W. T. Derieux, who offered the invocation of the evening, a fervent appeal for divine blessing upon the institution. Dr. Nelson then presented the speaker of the evening, Dr. Frank C. Woodward, who made an address of about thirty minutes' duration, speaking in a thoughtful and practical strain to the young ladies about to enter upon the activities and responsibilities of life. His address, which was always inspiring, and especially significant in this day of woman's larger participation in all life's activities, it means much more to a member of society in the beginning of the twentieth century than it did in the beginning of the nineteenth, and especially to a woman, owing to the wide sphere of her influence and her energies in the world.

The speaker took occasion to impress upon the young ladies the standard of the press, and appealed to them to demand a clean and wholesome newspaper. He took occasion to commend some of the modern newspapers, and declared that the editorial departments of Southern newspapers were maintaining a higher plane than were the news columns.

Dr. Woodward reminded the young ladies of their opportunities and responsibilities, and exhorted them to use their influence to the best advantage. He closed with an earnest appeal to the young ladies to realize the measure up to the responsibilities which their opportunities imposed upon them.

School Graduates.

Dr. Nelson introduced Mr. Christopher B. Garnett, of the Richmond bar, to deliver to the graduates in schools their diplomas. The following young ladies were awarded diplomas in the several departments named:

Graduates in Literature—Misses Laura Lawton, Louise Blundin, Mabelle Mitchell, Ann Skeggs, Nannie Versey, Doris Royall, Lillie Dill, J. Williamson, Lulu Hardee, Jennie Chory, Helen Tanner, Eloise Taylor, Marie Russell, Mabel Netherland.

Graduates in English—Misses Nellie Chapman, Nannie Hall, Lillie Chaplin, Lella Goodrich, Lily Bliscoe, Nannie Verser, Mary Jewett, Jennie Chory, Janie Richardson, Eloise Taylor.

Graduates in French—Misses Laura Lawton, Lily Bliscoe, Mary Perkins, Nannie Hall, Ava Parle, Mary Hackney, Bette Davis, Jennie Chory.

Graduates in Latin—Misses Laurie Dillard, Miss Mary Burnley Billingsley.

Graduates in German—Miss Belle McPherson.

Graduates in Biology—Misses Nannie Verser, Jennie Chory.

Graduate in History—Miss Lillie Chapman.

Certificate of Proficiency in Art—Miss Irene Mosely Gressitt.

After another musical interval, President Nelson announced the award of special medals offered by friends of the college. The first of these, the J. D. Crown elevation medal, was presented to Miss A. H. Roy, by Mr. F. W. H. White, D. D., in a speech marked by a

COUNCILS VOTE TO UPHOLD MAYOR

Unanimous Action Taken by Philadelphia Legislative Bodies Yesterday.

WEAVER PRESENT IN HOUSE

Won Hands Down and Even Got Best of It On Tax Question.

(By Associated Press.) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 1.—Without a dissenting vote both branches of the City Council to-day withdrew the ordinance authorizing the extension of the city gas works to the United Gas Improvement Company for a period of twenty-five years, for which privilege the company was to pay the city $25,000.00. Select Council also unanimously confirmed the appointments of Colonel Potter as director of public safety, and A. Lincoln Ackers as director of public works.

The galleries of the City Council were packed with spectators, and the action of the municipal legislators was received in silence. The ordinance, which was introduced by Mayor Weaver, accompanied by his attorney, in a room adjoining the upper branch during the vote on his appointment, was prepared to appear before the body if necessary, but was not called upon to do so. Another important move was made in Common Council when Alexander DeLaven, chairman of the Finance Committee, introduced a resolution fixing the tax rate for next year at $1.50 on $100. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 15 to 10.

Dr. Nelson then presented the speaker of the evening, Dr. Frank C. Woodward, who made an address of about thirty minutes' duration, speaking in a thoughtful and practical strain to the young ladies about to enter upon the activities and responsibilities of life. His address, which was always inspiring, and especially significant in this day of woman's larger participation in all life's activities, it means much more to a member of society in the beginning of the twentieth century than it did in the beginning of the nineteenth, and especially to a woman, owing to the wide sphere of her influence and her energies in the world.

Degrees Upon Women.

Dr. Nelson then announced that the trustees of the college had determined to award honorary degrees to the women of the South who by their attainments and their services in the cause of education had merited them. He said no reason why they should not be conferred on women as well as on men. Dr. F. A. Woodward, who was always inspiring, and especially significant in this day of woman's larger participation in all life's activities, it means much more to a member of society in the beginning of the twentieth century than it did in the beginning of the nineteenth, and especially to a woman, owing to the wide sphere of her influence and her energies in the world.

ANDERSON MEETING.

Senator Discusses His Candidacy in Marshall Ward.

Colonel George Wayne Anderson made his second appearance in Marshall Ward last night, when he discussed his candidacy for nomination for the House of Representatives. A fairly good-sized audience in the hall of the hotel gathered to hear him. The meeting was gotten up by Colonel Anderson and his friends, and was held in the hall of the hotel. The meeting was gotten up by Colonel Anderson and his friends, and was held in the hall of the hotel. ## VIRGINIA BRIEFS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) BOYDTON, VA., June 1.—A terrible storm, accompanied by hail and wind, passed over the county yesterday afternoon. Several sheds were blown down, and the crops were not seriously damaged. The lands were badly washed, but the crops are not seriously damaged. The lands were badly washed, but the crops are not seriously damaged. The lands were badly washed, but the crops are not seriously damaged.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA.—The Battleground in Stafford county was sold here at public auction yesterday afternoon by James Monroe for $75. Another piece of property near Parker's store, in Spotsylvania county, known as the "Battleground," was sold here at public auction yesterday afternoon by James Monroe for $1,200 for some creditors interested in the property.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEWPORT NEWS, VA.—Rev. C. E. Elmore, of Newport, Va., has accepted a call from the Twenty-fourth Street Christian Church of this city. The new pastor, who succeeds the late Rev. J. C. Burroughs, Rev. Mr. Elmore has been secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Clifton Forge, and has been doing evangelistic work for several years. He will preach his first sermon to his new congregation on Sunday, June 11.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA.—Frank Gabasso, a Portuguese sailor, was brought to St. Vincent's Hospital to-day with a broken leg. His bones were broken by a blow from the back and tackle with which he was working aboard one of the schooners, which is loading coal. The man is seriously hurt, but there is an apprehension that his leg must be amputated.

CHECK FLASHER IN PETERSBURG

Was Caught Red Handed By the Chief of Police.

DR PRICE'S OPERATIONS.

Expresses Satisfaction at the Progress Made By Insane Patients.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., June 1.—J. C. Reede, a check-flasher with fraudulent checks galore, was caught red-handed this evening by Chief of Police Ragland at Sana's clothing store, where he had just passed a $25 check. Reede, who is a clean-shaven, black-haired fellow, 23 years old and about six feet two in height, has been here since Monday, evidently preparing to work the town on an extensive scale, beginning by depositing at the Virginia National Bank a check for $42.25 in the Kanawha Banking and Trust Company, Charleston, W. Va., payable to himself and signed Ruffner Brothers by J. H. Ruffner. The Virginia National wired the Charleston bank and learned the check was false.

Eight checks, nearly all payable to A. R. Winsor, which is believed to be Reede's alias, were found in his valise. Three are on the Union Deposit Bank, Steubenville, O., one for $25, signed Steubenville Furniture Company by H. V. Neville; another, $40, same firm, and another for $25, signed by B. P. Foster.

Of the other two are on the City National Bank of Paducah, Ky., signed Paducah Furniture Company, for $25 and $20; two on First National Bank, Hinton, W. Va., and one on City National Bank, Dayton, O. The local bank is out only about $15, the sum found on Reede. The man submitted quietly to arrest and had little to say. He gave Evansville, Ind., as his home.

OPERATIONS ON INSANE.

Dr. Joseph Price, of Philadelphia, who has been here for two days lecturing and operating at the Central State Hospital, returned home to-night.

Dr. Price has performed operations in general surgery on a dozen insane patients at the hospital with the object of removing the physical cause of mental disease. This is his second visit during the last two weeks, and he expresses great satisfaction with the progress of the patients.

Dr. Price delivered an able and interesting address to the Petersburg Medical Faculty at the Central State Hospital this afternoon.

POSTMASTER GOODRIDGE VOLUNTARILY RETIRES AFTER LONG SERVICE.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) MONTROSS, VA., June 1.—Mr. John Goodridge, who has been postmaster at this place for twenty-four years, has resigned. Mr. Goodridge is eighty-nine years old, and while his physical condition is in a good state, he is not equal to the demands of the postoffice.

The immediate cause of his resignation is his failing eyesight. He has been energetic and faithful in the prosecution of his work during his long term of service. His son, W. E. Goodridge, has made application for the position.

Attorney-at-Law George Mason, of Colonial Beach, this county, has announced himself a candidate for the Legislature, representing Western and Northumberland counties, subject to the Democratic primary. Up to this time there has been no other candidate in the field. Mr. Mason is a young lawyer and is very popular, and it is believed he will be the next representative from these two counties.

FAITHFUL OFFICIALS.

One hundred and ten thousand dollars' increase in deposits is the May record of Petersburg's new bank, the Virginia National, which began business May 1st with deposits amounting to one hundred and fifty thousand.

Rev. W. G. Starr delivered an eloquent and interesting address to-night to the A. P. Hill Camp, Confederate Veterans, on "The Soldier as I Saw Him in the East."

Dr. Starr is chaplain of the camp, and has recently returned from a Mediterranean tour. A large number of veterans and invited guests were present at the meeting.

POLICE RECORD.

Chief of Police R. F. Ragland's report for the month of May shows the big total of three hundred and twenty-two arrests.

Captain Ragland and his officers have handled a number of unusually interesting cases recently, among which the safe robbery in W. E. Brown's drug store is one of the most unique in Petersburg's police records.

The Mayor this morning continued until Saturday the case of the negro, Charles Bland, of several aliases, who is accused of entering W. L. Settle's room early yesterday morning and stealing his trousers, containing his watch and money. Bland was arrested immediately after his return from Richmond, where he is believed to have spent about twenty dollars of the stolen money. The case was continued to await the arrival of Mr. Settle, who is a Norfolk and Western Railroad engineer.

The commencement entertainments of the Robertson Planoforte School began this afternoon, with a beautiful concert at the Young Men's Christian Association Hall.

Memorial Exercises.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHINCOTEAGUE, VA., June 1.—Decorative exercises were observed here Tuesday under the most favorable circumstances. People from all parts of the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Maryland were present.

The most noteworthy event of the day's exercises was the superb speech of Rev. Daniel H. Willis, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of this place. Addresses were also made by other pastors of the island, interspersed with national songs by a select chorus of young ladies.

Mr. Disbrow, an old Federal soldier, had charge of the above exercises, and introduced each speaker with very appropriate remarks.

BIG EXPOSITION NOW OPENED

place in history as surely as they do honor to the man who urged the exploration of what he called "this respectable breadth of country lying westward of the Mississippi River," and it may be that in history President Jefferson's reputation will stand higher for the quiet, determined persistence with which he brought about the Lewis and Clark exploration of the country west of the Rocky Mountains than for the acquisition of the territory of Louisiana.

"We celebrate to-day in connection with our sister States of the West, the acquisition of the Oregon country to the Union. As the acquisition of this country was the greatest expansion of our national domain and the only section secured to us by right of discovery, so, too, this centennial is the greatest undertaking of the people. In keeping with the confident prophecy of her great and extended future, the people of the Pacific West have united to prepare a fitting climax for her rapid evolution from pioneerdom.

"Among the thoughts that rise upon most in acknowledging our debts of gratitude to the Lewis and Clark expedition, President of the United States who used the limits of official and diplomatic propriety to make the expedition and its international interest in this event.

"The people of the Pacific coast are deeply appreciative of the recognition which the Lewis and Clark expedition has made possible the magnificent display of the resources, activities and functions of the Government.

Following President Goode, Governor George Chamberlain, of the State of Oregon, was introduced. Governor Chamberlain, in a short address, congratulated the people of the State, the city of Portland and the Lewis and Clark expedition, and notably in the history of the city and State.

Hon. Jefferson Myers, president of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Commission for the State of Oregon, was enthusiastically applauded when he took his position on the rostrum to address the people on behalf of the commission.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic applause which greeted any of the notable speakers was accorded Hon. George H. Williams, the Mayor of the city of Portland, who, in a short address, congratulated the people of the State, the city of Portland, and the Lewis and Clark expedition, and notably in the history of the city and State.

Hon. Clarence D. Clark, of Wyoming, representing the United States Senate, was next to extend felicitations upon the opening of the exposition. Senator Clark was attentively heard, his address being frequently interrupted by bursts of hand-clapping.

Hon. James A. Tawney followed Senator Clark on behalf of the Federal House of Representatives. Like his predecessors, Congressman Tawney was heartily applauded on his appearance on the speakers' stand, and that his remarks were pleasing was testified to by the handclapping and cheering which followed the concluding sentence of his address.

congratulations and felicitations of the various departments of the United States government upon the completion of the exposition were expressed by Hon. H. A. Taylor, First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and chairman of the United States government board.

Vice-President Speaks.

At this period of the programme the steadily increasing enthusiasm of the multitude found expression in a tremendous ovation to Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, the personal representative of the President of the United States. Through his previous visits to the city, notably during the last national campaign, Mr. Fairbanks has become a familiar figure to the people of the city and State. When he was at last able to make himself heard above the noise of the greeting, he said, in part:

"This exposition logically follows the great exposition which commemorated the Louisiana purchase. It appropriately supplements it. They both irresistibly suggest to the mind the great American dream, well to recall his service in connection with the acquisition from France of the province of Louisiana, and his organization of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, which opened the way to the expansion of the United States to the Pacific Ocean. It is well, pause to pay tribute to his lofty genius, his profound, far-seeing wisdom, and his services to the cause of human liberty and progress upon this continent. The fruit of his services will bless mankind for ages.

"A beneficent providence has scattered his bounty about you with a prodigal hand. This mighty Pacific you very devoutly invite you to an illimitable commerce here. Your agriculture, your minerals and your forests, your genial climate, known to the high quality of your citizenship, attract higher the homebuilder. The future has much in store for you."

"We must have a vigilant care for our increasing interests in the Orient. We must cultivate relations of amity with the millions who dwell beyond the Pacific. There lies a field of vast trade which we have long desired to possess, and which we have but slowly and inadequately gained. Our foothold is steadily increasing, and if we are but true to our opportunities it will be immeasurably enlarged to the advantage of the entire country. If we would have the trade of the peoples of the far East, we must first have their confidence. More over, we must suit our commodities to the needs of those with whom we would traffic; we must study their tastes and their requirements, and satisfy the desires of people in other countries.

"The tragic events which are transpiring in the Orient are the greatest calamities of the world over. The mighty and bloody conflict had its inception in a desire for commercial conquest. The American people were not indifferent to their own interests, and early in the struggle made a stand for the preservation of their commercial advantages in the very theatre of war. Our trade interests are to be pushed in the far-off country. Let us insist on the maintenance of peace, through the potent agencies of peace. We are
